To The School Teachers of Jackson County.

I am receiving letters from teachers relative to being paid for the time the schools were suspended on account of the influenza epidemic. Without writing each teacher individually, I answer thru the Sentinel.

I had a letter from the State Superintendent, in substance, the same as the one Miss Estelle Gaillbreath had published. I read the letter I received, to the County Board of Education when the subject came up, and every member of the Board voted not to pay any teacher for the time lost without a test case. So, if any teacher gets pay for the time he or she did not teach, they will have to bring suit and let the Supreme Court decide it.

I have read and re-read the opinion of the state's attorney general. He is only a lawyer, and subject to mistakes as are other lawyers.

The school money is not the County Board's money, nor the Superintendent's money, but it is the childrens money. They could not help the epidemic. It would be an injustice to them to pay the teachers for the time they did not teach.

If it is right to pay one teacher, it is right to pay all, which would take more than four thousand dollars of the childrens money. No genuine bona fide teacher will ask it. If I were teaching, I would quit the profession before I would ask it. How would I feel after I had made the most I have, teaching, to bring suit and get judgement for that four or six weeks I did not teach, and by that act, have $4000 or $5000. dollars of the childrens money paid out?

The Board acted, and it is a matter of record. Where there is enough of the school term left untaught to be worth while to open school again, to allow the same teacher to teach the remainder of the school.

Every teacher in the county is hired by the month, then if a teacher should bring suit, and be successful in getting a judgement, he could only get judgement for the part of the month he didn't teach. This is as I see it.

I think the Board acted wisely and with justice to the children.

The sentiment of the Board was such, that any teacher who would bring suit and cause a long drawn out lawsuit, would not have their hearty cooperation any more. The Board acted in good faith. Place yourself in their places, with the child's interest at heart, and not a self interest, and you will consider the matter differently. The Board and myself would like to have the hearty cooperation of all the teachers, but we can not neglect the interest of the child. It is not every child that gets value recived for the money spent with the teacher in the school room with it.

Any teacher, as I see it, that asks for money they did not earn, is out more for the money than for the good they can do. I hope every teacher will dismiss from his, or her mind, the idea of being paid for the time they did not teach, and as the war is over, and we hope, the influenza, let the slogan be, "Back to school."

Some of the teachers in the county have, and are making up the time they were out of school, or did not teach, while others say they only want pay for the time taught, which is the only right way to look at it. The school year does not end till June 30th.

Most respectfully,
W. L. Dixon, Co. Supt.
